NEW YORK'S NEW GOVERNOR.

What the Papers Say About Him.

Mr. William Sulzer, who, has been elected Governor of New York State, has obtained an honour long denied him by the "bosses" of Tammany. He was first thwarted by Mr. Richard Croker and afterwards by Mr. Charles F. Murphy, who has been forced to succumb to "anti-boss" sentiment at Syracuse.

Mr. Sulzer was a candidate for the Vice-Presidential nomination in 1900, but Mr. Adlai E. Stevenson was then chosen as Mr. Bryan's running mate. He is the chairman of the Committee of Foreign Affairs of the House of Representatives, and has served eight terms in that body. He was a member of the New York State Assembly from 1890 to 1894 and Speaker for one term. He was admitted to the New York Bar in 1894 and married Miss Clara Roddeheim, of Philadelphia in 1908.

Commenting on Mr. Sulzer's nomination, the New York daily papers expressed the following views:

The "Herald": "Mr. Sulzer is the hero of the Russian passport upheaval in Congress, which alone will add strength to his candidacy."

The "Evening Telegram": "Mr. Sulzer's selection ensures a rousing campaign."

The "Evening Post": "The Republican nomination a joke; the Democrats a man who has always been a joke."

The "Tribune": "The nominee bears the seal of Tammany control."

The "Sun": "It is a particularly refreshing event."

The "Globe": "Mr. Sulzer seems morally sound."

Messrs Krupp's Germanische dockyard at Kiel is building for the German branch of the Standard Oil Company the largest motor-driven vessel yet constructed. She will have a carrying capacity of 15,000 tons, and will be the largest "tank steamer" afloat. Hitherto the vessels built for the transport of oil from America to Europe have carried only 8,000 tons. The new ship will be 420 ft. long and 60 ft. beam. She will be propelled by two Diesel oil engines. These develop 1,800 h.p. and a speed of ten knots. Fourteen motor-ships, ranging in tonnage from 4,500 to 15,000, are now under construction in Germany.

HOW THE CRISP LOAN WAS ACCOMPLISHED.

Foreign Office Attitude.

In the form of "Copies of Correspondence," dated from the end of January last to the early days of September, published as a Parliamentary White Paper recently, the Government has issued a record of the negotiations which culminated in the Crisp Loan to the Chinese Republic. The correspondence opens with a notification to the Foreign Office by the Eastern Bank that they were members of a syndicate of Russian, French, Belgian, and English groups, formed for financial loans for the Chinese Government.

At the end of February the Foreign Office received from the Eastern Bank a letter saying—

We have received advice from China to the effect that future loans are to be made international—that is to say, they will be divisible among seven Powers, namely, England, France, Germany, Russia, Belgium, America, and Japan;
each to have one-seventh part of any loan which may be arranged. We venture to take the liberty of stating that,
in our opinion, it is not in the interests of Great Britain to agree to an arrangement on these lines.

In March the Hongkong and Shanghai
Banking Corporation informed the Foreign Office that "with the approval of His Majesty's Government, it had entered upon negotiations for supplying the immediate financial requirements of Yuan Shih-kai as President of the Chinese Provisional Government, against the issue of unsecured Chinese Treasury notes, the repayment of which was to be provided at a later stage by a reorganisation loan for a large amount. The British group therefore claimed that during the course of the negotiations His Majesty's Government would not support any other group in making loans or advances to China.

In reply to that, the bank received a letter from the Foreign Office, putting into writing Sir Edward Grey's assurance that the Government would not for the moment support the negotiations for a loan which might interfere with the temporary arrangements made for financing the Chinese Provisional Government, or which might conflict with the terms, or weaken the security of the large loan which the Bank was negotiating, and in regard to which advances had already been made to the Chinese Government.

On the same day a letter from the Foreign Office was forwarded to Lord Balfour of Burleigh, chairman of the Eastern Bank, stating that it was impossible for the Government at the moment to support negotiations for a loan which might conflict with the terms or security of the large loan for reorganisation purposes then being negotiated in Peking by the Four Power Committee.
Next day the Eastern Bank notified the Foreign Office that they, in conjunction with their Belgian and French associates, had arranged a loan for a million sterling
against the security of the Peking-Kalgan Railway as a temporary advance pending the negotiation of a larger loan. The notification added that the contract had been signed by the President of China and the Finance Minister, and asked that the British Minister should be instructed to require the customary notification of the Chinese Government.

After a short conference, acknowledging this notification, the Foreign Office informed that Sir Edward Grey was willing to support the loan, and in reply a letter from the bank pointed out that the Foreign Minister was obliged to support the loan with the confidence of public opinion.

Belgian loan was in conflict, and further stating that in this matter the Government were acting in accord with both the German and French Governments.

Some time afterwards the Eastern Bank formally complained that His Majesty's Minister at Peking was joining the Ministers of Germany, France, and America in protesting to the Chinese Government against the loan arranged by that syndicate, describing his action as "somewhat less than fair."

On September 4th the Chinese Minister in London formally notified the Foreign Office that a definitive agreement with a financial group represented by Messrs.
C. B. Crisp and Co. had been signed for a loan of ten million sterling, secured upon the unimproved portion of the Chinese Salt Gabelle.

Informing the Minister at Peking by cable of that notification, Sir Edward Grey on September 9th said he was attempting to stop the execution of the agreement. Should he fail, it would become necessary to deal with the matter
by direct communication with the Chinese Government.

In a cable sent the next day to Peking,
Sir Edward Grey told Sir John Jordan
he should endeavour to persuade the Chinese Government to disavow the action of their agents in this transaction, and two days later Sir John reported having made the desired representation.

The record is closed with the following cabled despatches:—

Sir Edward Grey to Sir J. Jordan,
September 23.

Messrs. Crisp have just informed me that they propose forthwith to issue
the prospectus of a ten-million pounds loan, and proceed with issue. If this is done, with sanction of the Chinese Government, His Majesty's Government will be obliged to take the most serious view of such proceedings. You are aware that we are disposed to show every consideration to the Chinese Government in facilitating their negotiations with the groups, but our attitude will have to be entirely re-considered if the Chinese Government on their part deny us in a matter in which they well know that we are pledged to act with the five other Powers. You should, accordingly, warn the Chinese Government, in the most serious manner of the unwisdom of their persisting with this loan at this juncture, and use your best efforts to get them to order
the suspension, at least provisionally, of the issue.

Sir J. Jordan to Sir Edward Grey,
October 9.

The Wei Chao Pa-hs has communicated to me in accordance with Article 17 of the Crisp loan agreement, and has asked that it should be placed on record. As similar notification has under the above article, to be made to you by the Chinese Minister, at London. I request instructions as to what reply I should return.

Sir Edward Grey to Sir J. Jordan,
October 10th.

Your telegram of 9th October. You should decline to place the Crisp loan on record.

NEVER A DAY WITHOUT PAIN
Until Her Doctor Prescribed
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

REUMATISM PERMANENTLY BANISHED BY CAYLON.

Her physician told Mr. Mack that her blood was so impregnated with rheumatic poison that no medicine could ever restore it to a pure condition. It is in just such cases as this that the unique efficacy of Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is most effectively demonstrated.

Mrs. C. Mack, of Ratanapora, Ceylon.
(From a photograph.)

"At times passed my knees and back became swollen and inflamed; headaches and sometimes attacks of neuralgia further made my life miserable, and during the monsoon I suffered so much as to be almost helpless. One doctor said that the poison of Rheumatism had so impregnated my blood that no medicine could restore it to a pure condition.

"For years I did not know what it was to go through a day without pain. I was treated in a private hospital for some time,
but became more and more emaciated.
Indigestion set in and made me afraid to eat, and constipation caused such stabbing pains round my heart that the doctors feared the Rheumatism had attacked the heart muscles.

"Finding that the medicines given me afforded no relief at last our family doctor prescribed Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The result of a few bottles of these Pills was highly gratifying. My appetite followed, and the pains which formerly flowed and became less severe. Slowly at any food became pure with the continued use of Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills my afflictions vanished.
I had no further trouble with headaches
and neuralgia, the rheumatic pains left me,
the inflammation and swelling in my joints went down. My cure has been permanent, for I have never had any return of the pain."

THIS HELPFUL BOOK FREE. Surfacing from Rheumatism and other blood disorders should write to the address below for the instructive book "Diseases of the Blood."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are obtainable from medicine vendors everywhere, and from the Office of the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 84, Southview Road, Shanghai, one bottle for $1.50, six for $8.00 post free.

SHAVIAN SHEEP.
"G. B. S." Yarn.
"Ba, ba, black sheep, have you any wool?"
"Yes sir, yes sir, three bags full!"
This old nursery rhyme is recalled by a story which reveals Mr. George Bernard Shaw in a new role. Unfortunately history often mixes such incidents in the lives of great men.
Some time ago Mr. Shaw was the guest of honour at a luncheon party given by Princess Mariinsky, whose step-daughter is Lydia Yaroska. He was wearing a simple black home-made lounge suit, which even attracted the Princess's attention, not so much by its utter simplicity as by its remarkable odor, recalling the leather and goat hair of either Scotland or Ireland.
"Is this what you call Harris Tweed?" asked the Princess, smiling at Mr. Shaw's sheep.
"No," he replied; "but if you like the stuff I'll send you all you want."
He then told her the story of its origin. It all came about from his admiration of that of his wife—for two black sheep. The owner was so flattered that he insisted on making them a present of the sheep. Being vegetarians, they did not know what to do with them, and so they put the sheep out to bond and lodge on a desolate farm in the north of Ireland, while they themselves returned to civilization.
Within a few months a couple of bale of wool were sent, and were speedily turned into bouzoupes for Mr. Shaw and his wife. But when the next shipment came, they had more wool than they knew what to do with, so they sent it to their relatives.
Time passed, and Mr. Shaw's prosperity increased so did the wool. After his relatives had tried it on his neighbors. In fact, so much cloth arrived that soon all his friends—excepting only the "citties"—were wearing clothes from the Shavian sheep.
He is said to have clothed many an ambitious actor appearing in his plays, but with the case of the wool came a political limitation from the farmer that he could no longer afford to board and lodge the sheep at the same rate as previously. Then the truth leaked out—the black sheep had not been taken in following their owner's teachings against race suicide.

Mr. Shaw wrote more plays in the hope of setting into touch with actors who were not vegetarians and actresses who liked bouzoupes. But even his versatility was not equal to the sheep, which multiplied accordingly.
Soon he was reputed to be the richest sheep farmer in the north of Ireland, his sheep being under another name and extending his pseudonym as time and the sheep went on. Then, tired of emulating Shakespeare, he returned to the day of the Old Testament, when a successful author like David was not reckoned rich according to the royalties he received, but by the thousands of sheep he possessed. And so Mr. Shaw can say with Shylock when asked if his money is so much sweat and lime, "I cannot tell; I make it breed as fast!"
These sheep are the skeletons in his cupboard. Under an unflattering, well-known and the young "Shepherd" like countenance, he hides a heart of lead, for he never knows when the next bale of wool will arrive or a telegram come advising him of the advent of "Twins. More later."
The two original sheep were called after the play he was writing at the time for Mr. Forbes Robertson—Cesar and Cleopatra. This was ten years ago, and he has written many plays, prefaces, and dialogues since—but not nearly so many as the number of sheep he has acquired within that period, which has proved a veritable Renaissance so far as sheep rearing is concerned.
When the history of the twentieth century is written and his life work is referred to, as he modestly declares it will be, perhaps the story of the black sheep may have a part in it, as showing the cover-up of a playwright to his simple life. Probably he would prefer that his name was not linked with black sheep, hence Mr. Patrick Campbell remarked after hearing him read his last play of love, "It only shows the life he has led."
"Daily Express."

It is reported that working operations have commenced in the Hanyang Iron and Steel Works which have been shut down since the latter part of 1911. At present only one blast furnace is in use but it is anticipated that the others will be ready for work very soon.
Referring to the work on the Canton-Hankow Railway, United States Consul-General Anderson (Hongkong) states:—
In line with renewed activities on the railway a contract has just been placed with an American concern for building a number of steel bridges, which will soon put considerable additional mileage into operation, and will doubtless add materially to the earnings. The management of the line and construction work are now under the direct control of Dr. J. J. Tien-yow, the American-trained Chinese engineer who projected and constructed the Hailan Railway, and is the best-equipped Chinese railway engineer in China.
Survey parties are also reported in the field for the "Wuchang-Yochow" section of the Canton-Hankow system. It is expected that this part of the work will go through rapidly, as there will be three parties out, each with six foreign engineers. In addition, a Chinese staff of twenty will be engaged, for who have passed an examination as assistant engineers and fifteen others as students. This section will connect with Kwangtung section at the border of Hunan Province. Starting these survey parties is further indication of a determination to push the railway enterprise forward.

A Natural Remedy

Time was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom. The evil spirits exist still. We call them "Disease Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.

ENO'S FRUIT SALT

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.

It may be safely taken at any time by young or old.

It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhoea by removing the irritating cause.

Be prepared for emergencies by always keeping a bottle in the house.

Coughs, Bronchitis, Asthma.

The soothing, healing and strengthening properties of Angier's Emulsion make it invaluable for the relief and cure of troublesome coughs, bronchitis, asthma, and all inflammatory and catarrhal affections of throat and chest. It not only heals and strengthens the lungs, but it keeps the digestive organs in a healthy condition and exerts a most invigorating tonic influence upon the general health. Angier's is the most palatable of all emulsions and agrees perfectly with delicate stomachs.

ANGIER'S EMULSION

"A HOUSEHOLD REMEDY FOR CHEST COMPLAINTS."

The Vicarage, South Benfleet.

Dear Sirs,—Several years ago, while suffering from an obstinate attack of bronchitis, and after being rendered exceedingly uncomfortable by the prolonged and regular use of creosote, I was advised to try Angier's Emulsion, which I did with the result that it gave speedy relief and clearance. Since then I have rarely been without this excellent remedy in the Vicarage. I have recommended it to many of my parishioners, with the result that it is now used in many homes as a household remedy for throat and chest complaints.

THE SHAKESPEARE-BACON CONTROVERSY.

An Interesting Letter by Mr. Smedley. (From the "Referee.")

Sir,—Mr. B. Davenport is mistaken when he says that all his life Bacon was a busy man of affairs. The greater part of his life, when his marvellous faculties were at their prime, is unaccounted for. A contemporary biographer says that:

At twelve, in industry, he was above the capacity and in mind above the reach of his contemporaries. He was then the observation of wise men, as he was after the wonder of all.

At that age he went to Cambridge, leaving at fifteen without taking a degree, because he disinterested from the current method of pursuing study. He had taken all knowledge to be his province. Gilbert Wats, in dedicating his interpretation of "The Advancement of Proficiency of Learning" (1640), says:

He (Bacon), after he had surveyed all the Records of Antiquity, after the volume of men betook himself to the volume of books, and having conquered whatever books possess, set upon the Kingdoms of Nature and carried that victory very far.

"When at seventeen years Hilliard, the Court miniature artist, painted his portrait he inscribed around it the significant words, 'Si abula daretur digna animum mallem.' 'If one could only find materials worthy to paint his mind.' Although he was at sixteen admitted a member of Gray's Inn, when at the age of thirty-three he was put forward for Attorney-General he had never held a brief. He was without any private practice.

From 1584 to 1597 five Parliaments were summoned. Bacon sat in each. But the sittings of those were not of long duration, and the speeches he delivered and committees he attended would absorb but a small portion of his time. At thirty-seven he published ten short essays—a book so small that after Mr. Quaritch had purchased a copy for £1,000, he slipped it into his waistcoat pocket. At forty-five he produced the two books on "The Advancement of Learning"—about 60,000 words. I have made an exhaustive compilation of the time which would be required for all we can learn of Bacon's occupations from 1579 to 1609, and not one year's full occupation of that period is accounted for, and yet it was for industry that he was famous. What was he doing? The Shakespeare plays would not account for much of the missing twenty-five years. Bacon, and Bacon alone, possessed all the qualifications necessary for writing those plays. The writer, whoever he was, turned them out without labour. Their spontaneity is their charm. They would flow from Bacon's pen without effort.

"What conceivable reason could Bacon have for this secret and self-imposed task?" asks Mr. Davenport. "Neither glory nor gain were there to recompense him for his labours. The pay was small—miserably small—for a man of Bacon's standing earning several thousands a year." How can Mr. Davenport, if he has read the plays, make such a suggestion? No, glory for the author of the Shakespeare plays! Well, then, it has been dedication. I wish there were space at my disposal to show from Bacon's own words why he wrote the plays and what he intended them to be, but if Mr. Davenport or anyone else who is interested in the subject will read "The Mystery of Francis Bacon" they can learn the whole story. At the time the plays were being written, so far as history tells us, Bacon was not earning a shilling by his labours. Oh, if we could only get your correspondence to master the facts!

Mr. Davenport is entirely wrong in his estimate of the Shakespeare plays. They were not written by a dramatic hack writer for a nobleman's company in actors. It is highly improbable that any one of the Shakespeare dramas, as printed, was produced at public theatre. Anyone who is acquainted with the customs of the public theatre of the day, the plays produced at them, the audience which frequented them, must know that this would be impossible. The duration of the performance renders it impossible. The audience would be roddily have understood a play of Aristophanes produced in Greek. The plays were not written for that period, but for posterity. The Sonnets clearly affirm this. There is no evidence that any one of the plays was purchased by a dramatic company or theatrical manager or ever belonged to either. Bacon produced the greatest stage productions of the period, and his works are saturated with references to the stage and to acting. Bacon never had "a grand scheme of philosophy." He definitely disavows any such purpose, which he regards as unprofitable. Mr. Tom Jones quotes extracts from a translation by Bacon of the 104th Psalm, and draws the conclusion that the versification is so different from that of the poems and plays that Bacon's authorship of the latter is impossible. If any man might be expected to be able to reproduce "the devout strains of Hebrew melody" that man was Milton. Here are extracts from his translation of Psalm vii:

Lord, my God, to Thee I fly, Save me and secure me under Thy protection while I cry;
Lest as a lion (and no wonder)
He hasty to tear my soul sunder,
Tearing and no rescue nigh.

God is a just judge and severe,
And God is every day offended.
If the unjust will not forbear
His sword he whets, His bow hath beaded.

Already, and for him intended
The looks of death, that waits him near.
By the same line of argument Milton could not have written "Paradise Lost" or "Comus." Pope said that as Shakespeare has written better, so he has perhaps written worse than any other. For hopeless doggerel the following extract from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" would be difficult to match:

When at your hands did I deserve this scorn?

Is't not enough, is't not enough, young man,

That I did never, no, nor never can,
Deserve a sweet look from Demetrius' eyes?

The deduction from this is rather that Bacon might have written the plays than that he could not.

If future generations know that Lord Tennyson said, "in his blunt manner," "Thank God we know nothing about Shakespeare but his plays!" I am afraid he will be remembered rather for his crass stupidity than for his poetry.

I am, Sir, yours, etc.,
WILLIAM T. SMEDLEY.

The latest Suffragette proposal is not the least amusing. It is suggested, says an English paper, that, unless, during the forthcoming session, Parliament establishes Female Suffrage, all women anxious for "the vote" shall cease eating on the mid-night of Christmas.

THE WAR.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS BEING CONSIDERED.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

LONDON, Nov. 21.
The Porte has appointed as plenipotentiaries to negotiate an armistice Nazim Pasha, Ismet Pasha (ex-commander of the Yemen), and Shadan Bey (Councillor of State).

THE SITUATION AT CONSTANTINOPLE.

The Porte has requested the embassies and legations to withdraw the naval contingents which they landed, on the ground that their presence is no longer necessary. A meeting of the ambassadors decided to leave the matter in abeyance.

LATEST TURKISH REPORT.

Reuter's Constantinople correspondent states that Nazim Pasha telegraphs that no serious fighting took place on Wednesday, but merely a slight artillery fire on the wings.

EMPEROR FRANCIS JOSEPH AND THE BULGARIANS.

LATER.
Reuter's Vienna correspondent states that Emperor Francis Joseph, speaking at a dinner, stated they were bound to admit the Bulgarians, but he could not understand why the fortunes of war were so unfavourable to the Turks. He hoped that the Press reports of the treatment by Serbia of the Austrian Consul were exaggerated, and that the incident would be peacefully settled.

RAVAGES OF DISEASE.

Scenes Of Horror.

Reuter's Constantinople correspondent telegraphs that he visited the cholera camp at San Stefano, where, he states, there were scenes of indescribable horror. There are hundreds of dead and thousands of sick lying in heaps, with scarcely any attendance. Two thousand people suffering from cholera are installed in a mosque in Saint Sophia, which place it is believed was chosen to prevent the possibility of profanation by Christian conquerors.

THE FIGHTING AT MONASTIR.

Enormous Turkish Losses.

A telegram from Belgrade states that fighting continues around Monastir with the scattered garrison, of which, so far, 5000 have been captured and 48 guns.

It is estimated that 20,000 Turks have been killed or wounded.

The Serbian losses were less, but great.

A telegram from Athens states that about 50,000 of the Turkish Monastir army were routed by the Serbians and fled via Florina, which the Greek army occupied yesterday, capturing quantities of material and ammunition.

BULGARIANS RETREATING FROM CHATALJA.

Reuter's Constantinople correspondent states that Nazim Pasha telegraphed yesterday night that the Bulgarians had abandoned their latest trenches and fallen back seven kilometres. Wounded, rifles and ammunition were found in the trenches.

BULGARIA'S TERMS REJECTED.

The Porte has rejected Bulgaria's terms and has ordered Nazim Pasha to resume operations.

BULGARIA AND HER TERMS.

A telegram from Sofia states that the Bulgarian conditions do not partake of the character of an ultimatum, and that it is quite open for the Porte to make counter-proposals.

SOMETHING FOR MOTHERS.

THIS is the season of the year when mothers feel very much concerned over the health of their children. It is often the case that the child is not well, and the mother is at a loss to know the cause. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best remedy for all such ailments. It is a safe and reliable remedy, and is sold by all Chemists and Druggists.

CANADA AND THE EMPIRE.

MUNIFICENT GIFT TO THE ADMIRALTY.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

LONDON, Nov. 21.
It is believed that H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, in the speech from the Throne at Ottawa to-day, will announce an immediate Canadian gift to the Admiralty of £5,000,000 to £7,000,000 for the construction of three Dreadnoughts.

DISASTROUS HURRICANE AT JAMAICA.

TOWNS PRACTICALLY WIPED OUT.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

LONDON, Nov. 21.
A message from Kingston states that the greatest hurricane since 1903 devastated Western Jamaica on the 17th and 18th inst. Luck (2) Green Island and Savanna-La Mar were practically wiped out by a tidal wave with great loss of life. Forty-two bodies have been recovered. At Montego Bay the banana and other fruit crops were destroyed. The news was brought to Kingston by steamer, the communications by road, railway and telegraph being cut off.

CHARGE OF MURDER.

At the Magistracy to-day before Mr. Harbord a man was charged with murdering another Chinaman at Lan Tan Island. It is stated that prisoner and another man attacked the deceased with poles, and he afterwards died. A reward for a week was granted on the application of Police Sergeant Brazil, who has charge of the case. Mr. Lewis, solicitor, is defending.

CHINESE IN CALIFORNIA.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 22.
A telegram from the International Merchants Association of Shanghai, just received here by the Chinese-American League of Justice, states that a formal notice has been sent by China to the State Department at Washington to the effect that, notwithstanding the failure of the United States government to recognize the new republic of China, that country will be represented by a substantial exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The news had a magical effect on the Chinese organizations of Los Angeles, and active preparations are ready under way to aid the government of China in its enterprise. The Chinese here state that, because of their country's inability to negotiate the $500,000,000 "six per cent" loan, under reasonable stipulations, and the unsettled conditions there, due to the recent revolutionary disturbances, the new republic is scarcely in a position to make the kind of exhibit which the Western Chinese desire; therefore they plan to raise money, by popular subscription, to help erect a fine Chinese building, and will call on the manufacturers and big business men of China to assist their government in equipping and stocking a permanent Chinese exhibit building, if the plan is approved.

Not satisfied with China's promise to have an exhibit at the exposition in San Francisco, the Chinese of the Southwest, through the Chinese-American League of Justice, are also endeavouring to launch a movement whereby they may raise sufficient funds for a substantial and attractive exhibit at the Panama-Pacific Exposition to be held in San Diego the same year, 1915. If this plan is successful, the Chinese will have two magnificent displays, one at each fair, and they could not predict that, with government assistance in their enterprise, the Chinese exhibit at San Francisco, if not at San Diego, will far excel the proposed exhibit of Japan. In fact, it is the ambition of every Chinese in California, if not in the United States, not to be out-done by the Japanese, and for this reason they will make vigorous effort to have one of the finest buildings at each of the two world's fairs.

No organization has yet been formed, but the Chinese-American League of Justice, which originated the project, has until now been conducting negotiations, and at its next meeting will urge the formation of a new association to take entire charge of the two exposition projects. The Chinese of Los Angeles believe every Chinese manufacturer will contribute largely to the fund, and are anticipating considerable aid from the Chinese in British Columbia, Hawaii and Mexico, where the commercial interests of the Orientals are much more extensive than in California.

COMMERCIAL.

COTTON AND YARN.

Messrs. Pollock and Kowall, cotton and yarn brokers, in their circular dated November 22 state:

Our last circular, per "India," was dated 9th inst., since when, there having been only small fluctuations in the market, confidence seems to have been somewhat restored, and a fair amount of business has been done, the sale for the fortnight amounting to 10,000 bales. In some instances, even higher prices, to the extent of $1 to $2, have been established, this being due to very large bookings having been reported from Bombay extending as far forward as January and February the closing tone of the market is steady.

Total sales 10,200 bales.
Unsold stocks 12,800 bales.
Sold but undelivered in the Godown and to arrive 37,000 bales.
Arrivals.—The mail str. "Derwin" and extra str. "Cupri" and "Waka-Maru" from Bombay and str. "Namsang" from Calcutta have brought in 9,681 bales for Hongkong, and 7,835 bales for Shanghai. Shipments from Hongkong to Shanghai and other ports, £2,000 bales.
Local Mill.—Sales of about 1,500 bales, at quotations, have come under our notice as remarked on a former occasion, this yarn is steadily working its way to the market. Advice from this port are to the effect that business is doing on a moderate scale.

Japanese Yarn.—The following sales are reported: 350 bales Seton No. 10 @ $125 and 450 bales No. 20 @ $155, 500 bales Yellow Chees No. 20 @ $145.50.
Raw Cotton.—A few parcels from the new season's crop have reached our market. The quality appears to be better all round than last year's cotton. The staple is better, very few seeds to be seen and the cotton is bulkier. Owing, however, to the high cost prices, no sales have yet been effected. Stock 300 bales.
Chinese.—Sales 450 (small) bales sold @ $28 to $31 per picul. Stock 200 bales.
Quotations: Bengal @ $25 to $29, Chinese $27 to $31.50.

SCOTTISH SPORT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
EDINBURGH, October 20, 1912.

The big game of the week in Rugby was between Glasgow Academicals and Edinburgh University, at Anniesland. According to the canons of modern play, it may have been termed unsporting, but there was always present a suggestion of tense equality. On the whole the Academicals had the heat of it. They were much more frequently dangerous than the University, whose raids were generally due to forward rushes, which failed on two occasions in a manner very fortunate for the home side. In the second half, the Academicals backs often looked likely to score, but a resolute defence, coupled with ill-luck, saved the "Varsity" goal. The Glasgow forwards, also, gave a creditable appearance against their powerful opponents, and were superior both in work with the feet and tactics in the loose. G. P. Speirs may be singled out for praise. The Edinburgh eight carried no deadweights, and S. Campbell, M'Connell, M'Kerrow, and Marburg were often caught the eye. Bogle alone of their three-quarters showed any initiative and resource.

ASSOCIATION.

By defeating Rangers, Celtic reversed the Glasgow Cup. The result does much to open out the competition, there being very little between Rangers, Clyde, Celtic, and Hearts; and while the leaders, Rangers, have still a long way to go, the task of securing the Championship for a third year in succession is not beyond them; no club is so well dowered with capable reserves in every position.

EWANGTONG NEWS.

THE CANTONERS AND MONGOLIANS.

Those of us who have failed to follow the papers closely may perhaps be somewhat unfamiliar with the trend of events in Mongolia. We know, however, in a general way, that there has been a movement in outer Mongolia amongst the leaders of public opinion to secure for their country freedom from the rule of China. It is said also that Russia has looked with considerable favour upon the movement, and not only so but has provisionally entered into a secret agreement with the would-be leaders of the movement for freedom, by which she guarantees her support to any movement that might be made in this direction. Such in general seems to be the present aspect of affairs. At any rate such is believed to be the situation by Chinese officials and Chinese journalists, and both these "scales of the beam" are doing their very best to stir up public feeling; and we judge that they are not spending their strength in vain. For some time the papers have been writing up facts, and probably fanciful, and lately almost every intelligent Chinese that one meets and converses with asks questions as to what is going on in Mongolia, and what the issue of this secret movement is likely to be. We recently saw an account of a meeting held in Canton, during the progress of which the speakers one after another discussed the situation according to the facts at their disposal, and the general trend of the meeting was that something must be done in the south to preserve the integrity of the north. But after all these meetings were without any authority. We see, however, now that there is another aspect of the matter to be noted. On the sixteenth of the month, General Chau and the Governor-General called together a big meeting of military authorities and there was a large and enthusiastic gathering. The purpose of the meeting was the stirring up of the martial feeling, and the arousing of the sympathies of the people of the south so that they will be prepared to assist the north in every way possible in maintaining the integrity of the empire. It would not be interesting, perhaps, to give the speeches in full, but a general statement may not be uninteresting. First of all, the state of Mongolia was maintained to be an integral portion of China, and if this is allowed to slip from the hands of the Chinese Government, it is certain that other parts will follow her example. Then there were strong things said against "a certain country" by which obviously Russia is meant, and the secret way in which she is believed to be fostering this rebellion, and the secret treaty by which she pledges herself to support Mongolia, if she is able to gain her freedom. All this is detailed with some minuteness. Then there is the inevitable reference to the Russo-Japanese war and the issues. This reference was made to point out the earnings for the state of their country, stood together, and either fought or gave of their wealth; so should the Chinese now follow such an inspiring example, whereupon what the Japanese were able to accomplish may even be eclipsed by the forces of China. Such and so forth was the gist of the speeches that fell from the lips of General Chau, and the Governor-General. The account before us is not a complete report of what transpired. That is to say, only part of the business is reported, and the remainder will see the light to-morrow. We see a rough, however, to be sure that people and their leaders are moved with indignation, and seem determined to assist the Central Government in their efforts to maintain the province as part of the empire of China. This spirit is praiseworthy enough. We are inclined, however, to sympathize with the Chinese in their aspirations to retain the boundaries of their empire. We think, however, that they have a difficult task before them. We mean the south is so depleted of funds for the regular government of the province that we fail to discover any means by which money can be raised to carry on a war with a big state in the north. As far as we can see, probably it would not matter to China proper if Mongolia to-morrow were to go its own way. China is an unenviable country to govern, with the means at the disposal of the Government, and if some of these trouble some mischievous states set up on their own account, and left China to manage her own vast Empire it is likely that no harm would be done to either. Anyway this is not the view held, and it is unlikely to be held, by the people of China, and so there seems to be a feverish eagerness on the part of the rulers to stir up the militant spirit of the people, that it may assist the north, in what is believed to be a coming struggle.

REFORMS OF LIKIN OFFICES.

During the Manchu Dynasty, on account of most unreasonable detentions and extortions, the Chinese merchants and cargo boats were compelled to fly foreign flag which generally afforded them effective protection. This proved a great obstacle to the development of our commerce, and besides, large amounts of money have been practically wasted in paying foreign protection. Now, for the better interests of our trade and commerce and also for the sake of economy, the Ministry of Communication has telegraphically requested the Tientsin authorities to order the like offices along all communication routes that no unnecessary detention and extortion be allowed, and severe punishments will be inflicted on the offenders.
